Tunnel

Painting #21

All the colors of my life

Displayed on the page
All my hopes dreams, desires
Slashed with blue and green
I see the path ahead of me
A dark and mysterious road
Something is ahead of me
But I don't know how far it goes

The world feels off balance,
But that doesn't give me an excuse to fall
Because the colors of my life
Displayed in front of me
Lead me through the forest
With all the wildlife
The animals of hope
The animals of dreams
The animals of desires
Because that's really anything
And everything
The world could ever need

Green
Blue
And black
I know I can't turn back
I am so far ahead
There's no reason to leave
So, I do
I continue my journey

Through the forest

Through the tunnel

Through the darkness

That I call life.
